BEFORE THE COURT are cross-Motions for Summary Judgment (Ct. Rec. 8, 12), submitted for disposition without oral argument on November 17, 2005. Attorney Clifford King B'Hymer represents Plaintiff; Special Assistant United States Attorney Jeffrey H. Baird represents Defendant. The parties have consented to proceed before a magistrate judge. (Ct. Rec. 3.) After reviewing the administrative record and the briefs filed by the parties, the court DENIES Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment and directs entry of judgment for Defendant.

Plaintiff, 26-years-old at the time of the administrative decision, protectively filed an application for Social Security disability and Supplemental Security Income benefits (SSI) on November 30, 2001, alleging disability as of December 2000 due to a

1 seizure disorder. (Tr. at 21.) Previously, Plaintiff was awarded
2 benefits on June 24, 1994, but those benefits ceased effective 3 December 2000, when it was determined her condition had improved and 4 she was capable of performing work activity.¹

5 Plaintiff, who completed a bachelor's degree in family and 6 child services, had past work experience as a keno runner, youth 7 counselor technician, mental health counselor, and cashier.
8 Following a denial of benefits at the initial stage and on 9 reconsideration, a hearing was held before Administrative Law Judge 10 Richard Hines (ALJ). The ALJ denied benefits; review was denied by 11 the Appeals Council. This appeal followed. Jurisdiction is 12 appropriate pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 405(g).

13 ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION

14 The ALJ concluded had not engaged in substantial gainful 15 activity and had a severe seizure disorder, but the impairment did 16 not meet the Listings. The ALJ rejected Plaintiff's testimony as 17 not fully credible. (Tr. at 31.) The ALJ concluded Plaintiff 18 retained the residual capacity to perform all work activity and 19 could perform her past relevant work. Thus, the ALJ found there was 20 no disability.

21 ISSUES

22 The question presented is whether there was substantial 23

24 ¹Although Plaintiff requested reconsideration of the cessation 25 of her benefits, she did not appear at the administrative hearing;
26 the ALJ's decision was entered the day following her nonappearance, 27 dated April 25, 2001. (Tr. at 67, 69.) The new application filed 28 in November 2001 followed.

1 evidence to support the ALJ's decision denying benefits and, if so,
2 whether that decision was based on proper legal standards.
3 Plaintiff raises only one issue: That this court remand the 4 captioned matter for consideration of new and material evidence
5 obtained from the Swedish Medical Center after the ALJ denied 6 benefits.

7 STANDARD OF REVIEW

8 In Edlund v. Massanari, 253 F.3d 1152, 1156 (9th Cir. 2001), the 9 court set out the standard of review:

10 The decision of the Commissioner may be reversed only if 11 it is not supported by substantial evidence or if it is 12 based on legal error. Tackett v. Apfel, 180 F.3d 1094, 13 1097 (9th Cir. 1999). Substantial evidence is defined as 14 being more than a mere scintilla, but less than a 15 preponderance. Id. at 1098. Put another way, substantial 16 evidence is such relevant evidence as a reasonable mind 17 might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.
18 Richardson v. Perales, 402 U.S. 389, 401 (1971). If the 19 evidence is susceptible to more than one rational 20 interpretation, the court may not substitute its judgment
21 for that of the Commissioner. Tackett, 180 F.3d at 1097;
22 Morgan v. Comm'r of Soc. Sec. Admin. 169 F.3d 595, 599
(9th Cir. 1999).

23 The ALJ is responsible for determining credibility, 24 resolving conflicts in medical testimony, and resolving 25 ambiguities. Andrews v. Shalala, 53 F.3d 1035, 1039 (9th 26 Cir. 1995). The ALJ's determinations of law are reviewed 27 de novo, although deference is owed to a reasonable 28 construction of the applicable statutes. McNatt v. Apfel, 201 F.3d 1084, 1087 (9th Cir. 2000).

22 SEQUENTIAL PROCESS

23 Also in Edlund, 253 F.3d at 1156-1157, the court set out the 24 requirements necessary to establish disability:

25 Under the Social Security Act, individuals who are 26 "under a disability" are eligible to receive benefits. 42 27 U.S.C. § 423(a)(1)(D). A "disability" is defined as "any 28 medically determinable physical or mental impairment" which prevents one from engaging "in any substantial gainful activity" and is expected to result in death or last "for a continuous period of not less than 12 months."

1 42 U.S.C. § 423(d)(1)(A). Such an impairment must result 2 from "anatomical, physiological, or psychological 3 abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically 4 acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques."
5 42 U.S.C. § 423(d)(3). The Act also provides that a 6 claimant will be eligible for benefits only if his 7 impairments "are of such severity that he is not only 8 unable to do his previous work but cannot, considering his 9 age, education and work experience, engage in any other 10 kind of substantial gainful work which exists in the 11 national economy" 42 U.S.C. § 423(d)(2)(A). Thus, 12 the definition of disability consists of both medical and 13 vocational components.

14 In evaluating whether a claimant suffers from a 15 disability, an ALJ must apply a five-step sequential 16 inquiry addressing both components of the definition, 17 until a question is answered affirmatively or negatively 18 in such a way that an ultimate determination can be made.
19 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)-(f), 416.920(a)-(f). "The 20 claimant bears the burden of proving that [s]he is 21 disabled." Meanel v. Apfel, 172 F.3d 1111, 1113 (9th Cir.
22 1999). This requires the presentation of "complete and 23 detailed objective medical reports of h[is] condition from 24 licensed medical professionals." Id. (citing 20 C.F.R. §§ 25 404.1512(a)-(b), 404.1513(d)).

26 ANALYSIS

27 Plaintiff asserts the matter should be remanded for additional 28 proceedings to consider new and material evidence, medical findings following an examination at Swedish Medical Center in Seattle.
Those findings revealed significant discrepancy between verbal abilities and nonverbal, visuospatial, visuomotor integration and problem solving abilities, suggestive of a right hemisphere dysfunction and non-dominant focus of cerebral dysfunctions. Thus, Plaintiff contends epilepsy, as well as cognitive difficulties, warrant an award of disability benefits. Defendant objects to a remand, contending the evidence is cumulative and does not take into account the completion of a bachelor's degree while suffering from the mental limitations noted at Swedish.

Ordinarily, this court reviews only the ALJ's decision since,

1 after denial of review by the Appeals Council, the ALJ's decision 2 becomes the final agency decision. 20 C.F.R. § 416.1481. However, 3 when the claimant submits evidence after the ALJ's decision and the 4 Appeals Council specifically considers that evidence, "we consider 5 the rulings of both the ALJ and the Appeals Council," and the record 6 for review includes the new evidence. Ramirez v. Shalala, 8 F.3d 7 1449, 1451-52 (9th Cir. 1993); 20 C.F.R. § 404.970(b) (providing the 8 Appeals Council shall evaluate the entire record, including new 9 relevant evidence); see also Harman v. Apfel, 211 F.3d 1172, 1180 10 (9th Cir. 2000); Bates v. Sullivan, 894 F.2d 1059, 1063-64 (9th Cir.
11 1990). Here, the Appeals Council considered the medical reports 12 from Swedish Medical Center and denied review. (Ct. Rec. 10.) If 13 this court disagrees with the Appeals Council and finds the new 14 evidence to be material, then the cause must be remanded to the ALJ 15 for re-consideration. Booz v. Secretary of Health and Human Serv., 16 734 F.2d 1378, 1380 (9th Cir. 1984). New evidence is material if 17 there is a "reasonable possibility" that it would have changed the 18 outcome of the administrative proceedings. Id.

19 Here, the psychological assessment by Alan Haltiner, Ph.D., 20 dated January 5 and 7, 2004, indicated right hemisphere dysfunction.
21 (Tr. at 462.) However, Dr. Haltiner recommended clinical 22 correlation of that impairment, particularly in view of EEG studies 23 in 2001 and 2002 suggesting abnormalities in the left cerebral 24 hemisphere. (Tr. at 364, 464.) The new findings also were in 25 conflict with other treatment records and Plaintiff's 26 accomplishments during the time at issue; thus, it was not 27 dispositive as to the issue of disability. The Appeals Council may 28 reject newly submitted medical evidence dated after the ALJ's

1 decision that is inconsistent with treatment records from the 2 relevant time period. Bates v. Sullivan, 894 F.2d 1059, 1064 (9th 3 Cir. 1990). Additionally, there was no opinion provided as to onset 4 date of the right hemisphere dysfunction and whether the impairment
5 was relevant to the date of the application at issue - 2000. See 20 6 C.F.R. § 404.970(b) ("Appeals Council shall consider the additional 7 evidence only where it relates to the period on or before the date 8 of the administrative law judge hearing decision"). Thus, there is 9 no "reasonable probability" the 2004 test results would have changed 10 the outcome of the administrative proceedings. Rather, the test 11 results more appropriately would provide support for a new 12 application. Accordingly,

13 IT IS ORDERED:

14 1. Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment (Ct. Rec. 8) is 15 DENIED.

16 2. Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment dismissal (Ct.
17 Rec. 12) is GRANTED; Plaintiff's Complaint and claims are DISMISSED
18 WITH PREJUDICE.

19 3. The District Court Executive is directed to file this 20 Order and provide a copy to counsel for Plaintiff and Defendant.
21 The file shall be CLOSED and judgment entered for Defendant.
